

Did you know?

190

There are 190 school days in each academic year, which means there are 175 days during which you can take your holiday, make appointments etc.

90% attendance means your child is losing 19 days (nearly five school weeks) of learning in a year.

90%

If a child is 5 minutes late every day, they miss 3 days of learning in a year.

Unauthorised absence

An unauthorised absence is time away from school which is not considered to be reasonable & for which leave has not been given. This includes holidays that have not been authorised. If a child arrives late, after 9.15am, this is also recorded as unauthorised.

You may not be aware, but if a child has more than 8 sessions of unauthorised absence during an 8 week period, (each day is made up of 2 sessions) a fixed penalty notice fine can be issued.
